Transcontinental

Common Bermudagrass

- Excellent for lawns, sports fields, fairways, and all general bermuda uses
- High summer turf quality
- Improved cold tolerance
- Uniform leaf texture with good turf density
- Very fast establishing

Transcontinental was developed in North Carolina to exhibit improved cold tolerance and very much improved turf quality. Ideally used for new bermuda turf areas or over-seeded to improve the overall quality of older bermuda lawns.

Very uniform leaf texture, with excellent turf density, Transcontinental will establish very quickly making it an ideal choice for a variety of applications including home lawns, sports fields and golf fairways.

For ease of handling and planting Transcontinental also features Barenbrug’s proprietary Yellow Jacket® enhanced seed coating. Yellow Jacket utilizes superabsorbant technology to produce a coating that can hold up to 600 times its own weight in water. The results provide fast, uniform germination and early growth, with reduced water requirements during early establishment.
